

Canadian Project Quotation Cold Channel 42U

Article Overview

To obtain a Canadian project quotation for a 42U cold aisle server rack, you need to follow the RFQ process while considering modular cold aisle containment solutions for optimal data center efficiency.

Canadian RFQ Process

In Canada, a Request for Quotation (RFQ) is used for procurement of goods or services below certain thresholds: under $25,000 for goods and $40,000 for construction or services, including taxes. RFQs are not publicly posted; offers are submitted directly by a specified date and time. A Telephone Buy (T-buy) is a type of RFQ for smaller purchases, where offers can be solicited verbally and documented in writing afterward. Before issuing an RFQ, ensure compliance with integrity policies and verify that vendors are eligible and informed about the procurement rules .

42U Cold Aisle Containment Solutions

A 42U server rack with cold aisle containment is designed to improve cooling efficiency, protect IT equipment, and reduce energy costs. Key features include:

- Modular design for flexible deployment at rack, row, or room level .
- Compatibility with EIA-310 compliant 19" equipment and high-capacity cable management .
- In-row or room-based cooling integration to optimize airflow and reduce energy consumption .
