

High-quality Korean electrical distribution box manufacturer

Article Overview

HWASIN, Shinsung Industrial Electric, and Shinhwa Electric are leading Korean manufacturers of high-quality electrical distribution boxes and enclosures.

HWASIN Co., Ltd.

HWASIN specializes in high-performance electrical enclosures and control panels for industries such as electricity, electronics, telecommunications, chemicals, shipbuilding, and construction . They offer standard and custom-made distribution boards, control panels, and explosion-proof enclosures made from plastic, steel, and aluminum. Their products feature waterproofing, dustproofing, and corrosion resistance, and the company holds international certifications including UL, TUV, CE, IECEx, ATEX, and KC . HWASIN has been operating since 1985, providing both domestic and international competitiveness.

Shinsung Industrial Electric

Shinsung Industrial Electric manufactures equipment for electric power distribution systems, including switchgear, load break switches, ring main units, and microprocessor-based relays . They produce most components in-house to ensure high quality and reliability. Shinsung has been a trusted supplier for KEPCO (Korea Electric Power Corporation) for over 16 years, demonstrating strong credibility in the Korean market.
